01

ALLOW EVENTS TO CHANGE YOU

You have to be willing to grow. Growth is different from something that happens to you. You produce it. You live it. The prerequisites for growth: the openness to experience events and the willingness to be changed by them.

Interpretation by:

Barbara Hennequin

www.eenontwerp.nl - mail@barbarahennequin.nl

02

FORGET ABOUT GOOD

Good is a known quantity. Good is what we all agree on. Growth is not necessarily good. Growth is an exploration of unlit recesses that may or may not yield to our research. As long as you stick to good you'll never have real growth.

Interpretation by:

Noortje van Eekelen

www.noortjevaneeekelen.nl - mail@noortjevaneeekelen.nl

03

PROCESS IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN OUTCOME

When the outcome drives the process we will only ever go to where we've already been. If process drives outcome we may not know where we're going, but we will know we want to be there.

Interpretation by:

Manon den Hartog

www.manondenhartog.nl - info@manondenhartog.nl

04

LOVE YOUR EXPERIMENTS (AS YOU WOULD AN UGLY CHILD)

Joy is the engine of growth. Exploit the liberty in casting your work as beautiful experiments, iterations, attempts, trials, and errors. Take the long view and allow yourself the fun of failure every day.

Interpretation by:

Saskia Pouwels

www.saskiapouwels.nl - saskia.pouwels@gmail.com

05

GO DEEP

The deeper you go the more likely you will discover something of value.

Interpretation by:

06

CAPTURE ACCIDENTS

The wrong answer is the right answer in search of a different question.
Collect wrong answers as part of the process. Ask different questions.

Interpretation by:

Brigiet van den Berg
<http://brigiet.isme.nl> - mail@brigiet.nl

07

STUDY

A studio is a place of study. Use the necessity of production as an excuse to study. Everyone will benefit.

Interpretation by:

Lobke van Aar
www.lobkevanaar.nl - info@lobkevanaar.nl

08

DRIFT

Allow yourself to wander aimlessly. Explore adjacencies. Lack judgment.
Postpone criticism.

Interpretation by:

Julien Arts

09

BEGIN ANYWHERE

John Cage tells us that not knowing where to begin is a common form of paralysis. His advice: begin anywhere.

Interpretation by:

Merijn van Essen

10

EVERYONE IS A LEADER

Growth happens. Whenever it does, allow it to emerge. Learn to follow when it makes sense. Let anyone lead.

Interpretation by:

Lenneke Heeren
www.lennekeheeren.nl - info@lennekeheeren.nl

11

HARVEST IDEAS

Edit applications. Ideas need a dynamic, fluid, generous environment to sustain life. Applications, on the other hand, benefit from critical rigor.

Produce a high ratio of ideas to applications.

Interpretation by:

Laurent Oomens
www.laurentoomens.nl - info@laurentoomens.nl

12

KEEP MOVING

The market and its operations have a tendency to reinforce success. Resist it. Allow failure and migration to be part of your practice.

Interpretation by:

Robin Nas / Anne de Laat

13

SLOW DOWN

Desynchronize from standard time frames and surprising opportunities may present themselves.

Interpretation by:

Daniel Maarleveld
www.danielmaarleveld.nl - mail@danielmaarleveld.nl

14

DON'T BE COOL

Cool is conservative fear dressed in black. Free yourself from limits of this sort.

Interpretation by:

Susanne van den Heuvel
www.susannevandenheuvel.nl - susannevandenheuvel@live.com

15

ASK STUPID QUESTIONS

Growth is fueled by desire and innocence. Assess the answer, not the question. Imagine learning throughout your life at the rate of an infant.

Interpretation by:

Kris Borgerink
http://kris.isme.nl - kris@isme.nl

16

COLLABORATE

The space between people working together is filled with conflict, friction, strife, exhilaration, delight, and vast creative potential.

Interpretation by:

Holy Grey
www.holygrey.nl - post@holycgrey.nl

17

Intentionally left blank. Allow space for the ideas you haven't had yet, and for the ideas of others.

Interpretation by:

Indrek Sirkel
www.sirkel.ee - sirkel@sirkel.ee

18

STAY UP LATE

Strange things happen when you've gone too far, been up too long, worked too hard, and you're separated from the rest of the world.

Interpretation by:

David Paans
www.davidpaans.nl - david@gvd-spot.nl

19

WORK THE METAPHOR

Every object has the capacity to stand for something other than what is apparent. Work on what it stands for.

Interpretation by:

Kalle Mattsson

20

BE CAREFUL TO TAKE RISKS

Time is genetic. Today is the child of yesterday and the parent of tomorrow. The work you produce today will create your future.

Interpretation by:

Karl Nawrot

21

REPEAT YOURSELF

If you like it, do it again. If you don't like it, do it again.

Interpretation by:

Kim Young-Na

22

MAKE YOUR OWN TOOLS

Hybridize your tools in order to build unique things. Even simple tools that are your own can yield entirely new avenues of exploration. Remember, tools amplify our capacities, so even a small tool can make a big difference.

Interpretation by:

Scott Ponik

23

STAND ON SOMEONE'S SHOULDERS

You can travel farther carried on the accomplishments of those who came before you. And the view is so much better.

24

AVOID SOFTWARE

The problem with software is that everyone has it.

You might find something in the morning that you can't see tonight.

26

DON'T ENTER AWARDS COMPETITIONS

Just don't. It's not good for you.

Interpretation by:

Jeroen Timmer

27

READ ONLY LEFT-HAND PAGES

Marshall McLuhan did this. By decreasing the amount of information, we leave room for what he called our "noodle."

Interpretation by:

Julian Hagen

28

MAKE NEW WORDS

Expand the lexicon. The new conditions demand a new way of thinking. The thinking demands new forms of expression. The expression generates new conditions.

Interpretation by:

Choi Wong

29

THINK WITH YOUR MIND

Forget technology. Creativity is not device-dependent.

Interpretation by:

Anton Koovit

30

ORGANIZATION = LIBERTY

Real innovation in design, or any other field, happens in context. That context is usually some form of cooperatively managed enterprise. Frank Gehry, for instance, is only able to realize Bilbao because his studio can deliver it on budget. The myth of a split between “creatives” and “suits” is what Leonard Cohen calls a ‘charming artifact of the past.’

Interpretation by:

Zerahja Kartono
www.zerahjakartono.blogspot.com - info@zerahjakartono.nl

31

DON'T BORROW MONEY

Once again, Frank Gehry’s advice. By maintaining financial control, we maintain creative control. It’s not exactly rocket science, but it’s surprising how hard it is to maintain this discipline, and how many have failed.

Interpretation by:

Simona Kicurovska
www.simonakicurovska.com - hello@simonakicurovska.com

32

LISTEN CAREFULLY

Every collaborator who enters our orbit brings with him or her a world more strange and complex than any we could ever hope to imagine. By listening to the details and the subtlety of their needs, desires, or ambitions, we fold their world onto our own. Neither party will ever be the same.

Interpretation by:

Studio 1 en 1

33

TAKE FIELD TRIPS

The bandwidth of the world is greater than that of your TV set, or the Internet, or even a totally immersive, interactive, dynamically rendered, object-oriented, real-time, computer graphic–simulated environment.

Interpretation by:

34

MAKE MISTAKES FASTER

This isn't my idea – I borrowed it. I think it belongs to Andy Grove.

35

IMITATE

Don't be shy about it. Try to get as close as you can. You'll never get all the way, and the separation might be truly remarkable. We have only to look to Richard Hamilton and his version of Marcel Duchamp's large glass to see how rich, discredited, and underused imitation is as a technique.

Interpretation by:

*Guus Gijben

36

SCAT

When you forget the words, do what Ella did: make up something else ... but not words.

38

EXPLORE THE OTHER EDGE

Great liberty exists when we avoid trying to run with the technological pack. We can't find the leading edge because it's trampled underfoot. Try using old-tech equipment made obsolete by an economic cycle but still rich with potential.

Interpretation by:

*Leanne Wijnsma
www.leannewijnsma.nl - post@leannewijnsma.nl*

39

COFFEE BREAKS, CAB RIDES, GREEN ROOMS

Real growth often happens outside of where we intend it to, in the interstitial spaces – what Dr. Seuss calls “the waiting place.” Hans Ulrich Obrist once organized a science and art conference with all of the infrastructure of a conference – the parties, chats, lunches, airport arrivals – but with no actual conference. Apparently it was hugely successful and spawned many ongoing collaborations.

Interpretation by:

Kees de Klein & Rozemarijn Koopmans www.keesdeklein.nl - keesdeklein@gmail.com

40

AVOID FIELDS

Jump fences. Disciplinary boundaries and regulatory regimes are attempts to control the wilding of creative life. They are often understandable efforts to order what are manifold, complex, evolutionary processes. Our job is to jump the fences and cross the fields.

Interpretation by:

*Jaan Evert
www.jaanevert.com - jaan@jaanevert.com*

41

LAUGH

People visiting the studio often comment on how much we laugh. Since I’ve become aware of this, I use it as a barometer of how comfortably we are expressing ourselves.

Interpretation by:

*Charlotte Aal
www.charlotteaal.nl - mail@charlotteaal.nl*

42

REMEMBER

Growth is only possible as a product of history. Without memory, innovation is merely novelty. History gives growth a direction. But a memory is never perfect. Every memory is a degraded or composite image of a previous moment or event. That’s what makes us aware of its quality as a past and not a present. It means that every memory is new, a partial construct different from its source, and, as such, a potential for growth itself.

Interpretation by:

*Jonathan Looman
www.hellowman.nl - mail@hellowman.nl*

43

POWER TO THE PEOPLE

Play can only happen when people feel they have control over their lives.
We can't be free agents if we're not free.
